MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, Foreign Broadcast Information Service
THROUGH : Chief, Operations Group
SUBJECT : Monthly Report -- Nicosia Bureau -- December

I. GENERAL

A. Most of the work on the new building site during December centered on pouring concrete and excavating. Little work was done toward the end of the month because of the variety of holidays celebrated by the Cypriots. At month's end the ground beams for the building, a critical phase of the construction process, had been poured. But our initial inspection of this work indicated that the contractor failed to meet the construction specifications for the groundbeams and we face the prospect of ordering all this work demolished and done again, all of which will cause delays and raise tempers on all sides. A security specialist visited us for two days to assist us in ordering security-related items. He also viewed the construction process of our perimeter wall and recommended some minor revisions of existing plans to improve safety and access control to the building.

II. OPERATIONS

A. Monitorial/Editorial

1. According to a report in the 3 December issue of ALITHIA, a right-wing Cypriot newspaper not on regular bureau coverage, police have obtained information that terrorist attacks against foreign embassies, particularly those of the United States and Israel, are to be launched by "kamikaze" pilots in planes that have "disappeared" from Beirut airport. Security personnel at the local Embassy were apprised of this report and of the subsequent terse denial by the government spokesman, published in the 5 December issue of O FILELEVETHEROS, that the Cypriot Government has no such information.

2. Staffing changes were instituted and bureau operating hours extended on 9 December to cover the election returns from the previous day's voting for new members in the Cypriot House of Representatives.

3. On 30 December, Beirut radio reported that Lebanese television has begun to unify its sect-separated first and second programs, previously transmitted from two different facilities: Tallat al-Khayyat in West Beirut and Al-Hazimiyah in the eastern sector of Beirut.

B. Technical

STAT

1. Our project to install a beverage antenna at the [redacted] remote site continues to limp along. CYTA is still trying to obtain signatures for pole rights to the last remaining section of land in the antenna's proposed path. The owners have been abroad for some time and their return is awaited. We keep being told that resolution of the problem is near, but we have no firm date except that the antenna can be installed within two months of the signatures being obtained.

2. CYTA has instituted a new policy on the funding of projects. Henceforth, one-half of the projected costs of a project must be paid in advance before work can be started.

3. Equipment received: Two Watkins-Johnson VHF receivers, model 441-3-2, received from Washington. Both will be used at the Lara remote site.
